

Womb cancer: it's more common than you think

In the UK, womb cancer is the fourth most common cancer in women, with around 9,700 new cases diagnosed every year.*

That's 27 cases every day. When diagnosed early, 92% will survive*. Know the symptoms and don't ignore the signs – they could save your life.

Bleeding after menopause

Blood in your urine

Bleeding in between periods or
after sex

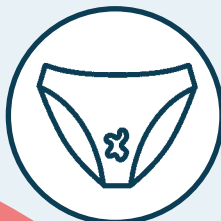

Unexplained
weight loss

Periods
becoming heavier than normal

Tummy pain

Abnormal
vaginal discharge

*Cancer Research UK

If you're experiencing
any of these symptoms,
speak to your GP.

peachestrust.org

Peaches Womb Cancer Trust, Clarke Nicklin House, 4 Brooks Drive, Cheadle Royal Business Park SK8 3TD • Registered Charity 1190440

Womb cancer facts

27

people are diagnosed with womb cancer every day in the UK*

7

people die from womb cancer every day in the UK*

32%

of people in Great Britain are not aware of womb cancer

92%

of people survive womb cancer following an early diagnosis (stage 1 or 2)*

15%

of people survive womb cancer following a later diagnosis (stage 3 or 4)*

*Cancer Research UK
 YouGov Survey 2024

peachestrust.org